TAXABLE FIXED INCOME STRATEGY

SEIX ◆
INVESTMENT
ADVISORS LLC®

INVESTMENT PROCESS

We begin our research effort by focusing on the healthier segment of the high yield universe, BB and B rated bonds and liquid securities with good price action. Early in the process, we exclude issuers with less than $200 million USD in debt outstanding; issuers that have fewer than two market makers or offer poor information access; and companies whose bonds are exhibiting poor price action.

Within our high yield research team, each research analyst covers between two and four specific industries. We do not rotate analyst coverage from sector to sector because our credit analysts are specialists in their particular industries. Research analysts are responsible for modeling individual companies in their industries, according to the specifics that drive that industry group. For example, the research analyst covering healthcare will utilize a model that incorporates Medicare reimbursements, bed occupancy rates, etc.

KEY FACTORS

Generally, ratings range from AAA, the highest quality rating, to D, the lowest, with BBB and above being called investment grade securities. BB and below are considered below investment grade securities. If the ratings from all three agencies are available, securities will be assigned the median rating based on the numerical equivalents. If the ratings are available from only two of the agencies, the more conservative of the ratings will be assigned to the security. If the rating is available from only one agency, then that rating will be used. Ratings do not apply to a fund or to a fund's shares. Ratings are subject to change.

IMPORTANT RISK CONSIDERATIONS

Credit & Interest: Debt securities are subject to various risks, the most prominent of which are credit and interest rate risk. The issuer of a debt security may fail to make interest and/or principal payments. Values of debt securities may rise or fall in response to changes in interest rates, and this risk may be enhanced with longer-term maturities. High Yield-High Risk Fixed Income Securities: There is a greater level of credit risk and price volatility involved with high yield securities than investment grade securities.

DEFINITIONS & DISCLOSURES

Bonds offer a relatively stable level of income, although bond prices will fluctuate providing the potential for principal gain or loss. Intermediate-term, higher quality bonds generally offer less risk than longer-term bonds and a lower rate of return. Generally, a Portfolio's fixed income securities will decrease in value if interest rates rise and vice versa. Although a Portfolio's yield may be higher than that of fixed income strategies that purchase higher rated securities, the potentially higher yield is a function of the greater risk of that strategy's underlying securities.

Effective Duration is the percentage change in the price of a bond given a parallel shift in the semi-annual par coupon government yield curve while keeping option-adjusted spread constant. An option pricing model is used to account for the impact of embedded options such as call or put features.

Weighted Average Maturity is the average time until a portfolio's securities mature, weighted in proportion to the amount invested in the portfolio.

Average Credit Quality is the weighted average of the credit ratings for the bonds held in the portfolio according to the Bloomberg Barclays methodology. The Bloomberg Barclays methodology states that when all three rating agencies (S&P, Moody's and Fitch) provide a rating on a particular security, the rating will be the middle of the three. If only two of the three agencies provide a rating, the rating will be the lowest of the two ratings. If only one rating agency assigns a rating, it will be that rating.

Effective Yield is the yield of a hypothetical bullet bond created by stripping out the options value of a bond with embedded optionality such as call or put features.

Current Yield is an investment's annual income (interest or dividends) divided by the current price of the security. This measure looks at the current price of a bond instead of its face value. Current yield represents the return an investor would expect if the owner purchased the bond and held it for a year, but current yield is not the actual return an investor receives if he holds a bond until maturity.
